Hoover Deplores Juvenile Kidnapers

WASHINGTON May 27 — J Edgar Hoover chief of the federal experts now centering attention on the $200 000 ransom demand for little George Weyerhaeuser at Tacoma Wash says a wave of kidnap threats and extortion letters by juveniles has become a serious federal problem.

In 32 cases in the last three years in which justice department agents have closed in on some suspect lured by a decoy ransom package they have found youngsters under 21 years.

"Our men have arrested 37 boys and five girls not old enough to vote as they traced extortion notes that threatened death and demanded from $10 to $50 000" Hoover said.

In some instances he added the notes were traced back to sons daughters or other members of the household to which the notes were addressed.

loss. Instead of making more guns and swords and implements of warfare may they be turned into useful articles of industry. Instead of building more battleships and increasing our armies may we be able to turn them into merchant vessels and send our soldiers back home as citizens of peace. Instead of raising more billions of dollars for war and increasing the tax burdens use this vast amount for relief and unemployment and to promote prosperity.

The only successful way this can be done is not to promote war scares and war propaganda for selfish gains not to encourage a spirit of ill will among our neighbors of another race or color not by a false education founded on the principle of hate.

But by taking a forward step on the basis of love inspired by the mighty principle of genuine good will founded on the basic doctrines of the Prince of Peace Jesus Christ who made known the infinite mercy and fatherhood of God who gave to the world that peace that passeth understanding who blazed the path for us to tread by way of the garden the cross the tomb and the resurrection.

Committee Still Undecided Concerning Status of 3 Fundamentalists

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI O May 27—The [illegible] general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U S A entered the second half of its [illegible] day meeting today with a committee on polity silent on its decision on the eligibility to commissionerships of three fundamentalists.

The three fundamentalists Rev H McAllister Griffiths and Rev Merril T MacPherson of Philadelphia and Rev Carl McIntire of Collingswood N J awaited the deferred decision while the committee remained in recess over the weekend.

The committee elected shortly after the fundamentalists right to commissionerships had been challenged in the opening session was expected to announce their fate Friday and again Saturday but no word was forthcoming.

The challenges were based on the refusal of the three men to resign from the independent board for Presbyterian foreign missions when the general assembly so demanded in 1934. Rev J Gresham Machen of Philadelphia recently [illegible] a similar demand.

Both Dr Machen and Rev Dr Joseph Anderson Vance of Detroit newly elected moderator delivered sermons here yesterday. Dr Machen denounced the liberal church leaders and Dr Vance avoided mention of the controversy.

CONTINUING WHEAT PROGRAM IS FAVORED

[illegible] 9 yes 11 no non contractors [illegible] yes three no.

Prospect—Contract signers 26 yes six no non contractors one yes [illegible] no.

A final official summary of the vote will be prepared tonight by the county allotment committee made up of J G Montgomery of Montgomery township Harry A Fletcher of Pleasant township and L L Trout of Claridon township.

Other Counties

Marion county when early tabulations were taken this morning was one of a few Ohio counties in which continuation of wheat production control was not favored. The vote in that county was 27 in favor of continuation and 41 against. Twenty seven contractors voted in favor of it and 20 against it [illegible] non contractors voted in favor of it and 20 voted against it.

In Wyandot county the available figures were 36 votes in favor of continuation 11 against. All of these votes were cast by contract signers. The Hardin county vote was 157 for and 10 against.

Ohio although giving approval by a substantial majority to continuance of the program in 1936 did not vote as overwhelmingly in favor of it as did other sections of the country.

The vote throughout the country averaged 6 to 1 for continuance while Ohio's percentage on the basis of returns from 58 counties was only 5 to 2 an Associated Press poll showed.

With many districts yet unheard from an unofficial survey gave the total from the 58 counties 10768 yes 4531 no.

Non holders of present contracts who were given an opportunity to vote on the proposal were barely able to obtain a majority in favor of the proposal. Their vote was 1332 yes 1215 no.

However in every county that reported for the Associated Press tabulation farmers now received government benefits from the control plan voiced approval this vote was 9436 yes 3316 no.

Heaviest opposition from farmers who are not now participating in the program came from Darke Shelby Miami and Montgomery counties.

Farmers Worked

Ideal conditions Saturday for corn planting which has been delayed by recent heavy rains was said by many agriculture agents to have kept hundreds of farmers from voting.

At present there are 23534 contract holders in the state. The final tabulation is expected to show that nearly 18000 farmers cast their ballots.

In Washington meanwhile differences developed among Republican leaders in congress as to the significance of the wheat producers poll.

"The result was to be expected" declared Senator Dickinson Republican of Iowa. "Those voting for continuance of the wheat program are the ones who expect to be its beneficiaries."

Senator Capper Republican of Kansas [illegible] the vote ought to [illegible] congress that the wheat program has been helpful and that the wheat farmers undoubtedly are [illegible] Representative Hope of Kansas ranking Republican member of the house agriculture committee [illegible] no political effect in the referendum in his state.

Present strategy calls for sending the NRA bill to the senate which itself has passed a [illegible] different measure. The senate measure provides for 9 months extension [illegible] price fixing except for mineral natural resources and outlaws the application of codes to intrastate business.

In case a threatened filibuster by senate foes of NRA seems likely to delay action until after the recovery act expires June 16 strategists indicated that they were considering two alternative moves.

1 The house receding from its present stand would accept any bill agreeable to the senate—even a 9 month extension. This bill then would be hurried to the President and signed to save NRA from passing out of legal existence altogether. Officials in charge of the hospital said there was not the slightest danger to the building and least of all to the babies themselves for they could be quickly moved if an emergency required.

A dozen or more men fought to check the fire throughout the night seemingly with little success.

Refrigerator Velvet Pudding

[illegible] cups one fourth cup sugar for the prunes [illegible] granulated gelatine [illegible] cold water two [illegible] one half cup granulated [illegible] fourth teaspoon salt [illegible] beaten one and one [illegible] vanilla one half pint whipping cream two dozen lady fingers.

Wash the prunes and boil 15 minutes in enough water to cover adding one fourth cup sugar for the last [illegible] of cooking. Drain cool and pit the prunes then cut in small pieces. Moisten the gelatine in the cold water. Heat milk sugar salt to boiling point, remove from the fire and add the gelatine and stir until dissolved. Let cool a few minutes and pour over the well beaten eggs stirring constantly. Add vanilla and set in the refrigerator to cool.

When the custard begins to set fold in the whipped cream. Line a loaf cake pan (about nine by four by three inches) bottom and sides with waxed paper then with halved lady fingers rounded side down. Place half of the prunes on the bottom layer of lady fingers then pour in half of the custard, add a layer of lady fingers then the rest of the prunes and remaining custard. Cover top with halved lady fingers rounded side up. Place in refrigerator over night. Unmold and slice immediately. Enough for 12.

Custard Ice Cream

One and one fourth cups milk one and one half teaspoons flour one half cup sugar two egg yolks one cup whipping cream two egg whites one and one half teaspoons vanilla one eighth teaspoon salt.

Mix flour and sugar thoroughly add cold milk and stir to a smooth paste. Cook until thick stirring constantly then place the kettle over hot water for ten minutes. Remove from the range add mixture to beaten egg yolks and cook two minutes longer. Strain and set aside to cool. Add vanilla. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites salt and whipped cream. This mixture may be frozen in the automatic refrigerator without stirring. If fruits are added it should be beaten once after the first hour.

For variety one and one fourths squares of chocolate melted may be added just before the beaten egg yolks. Fruits for the custard mixture which make good combinations are berries chopped cooked apricots nuts and raisins chopped candied orange peel.

I shall give more refrigerator recipes in the coming weeks.

A RAW VEGETABLE SALAD AND NEW DRESSING

Cucumbers tomatoes lettuce radishes and scallions combine in this attractive plate of salad. But the news is in the economy salad dressing. Recipe given elsewhere on the page

With the ever-changing array of seasonable vegetables and a few appetizing dressings there is no end to the variety of salads at your command. Everything used in the salad should be fresh and cold. Lettuce radishes young onions celery should all be washed and crisped in the refrigerator. The salad dressing may be mixed in a few seconds just long enough beforehand to be thoroughly chilled. These short cut dressings are all especially suited to serve with fresh vegetable salads. They are not only easy to make but they are inexpensive as they require no eggs or oil.

Economy Salad Dressing

One teaspoon salt one half cup vinegar one teaspoon dry mustard one and one third cups (one can) sweetened condensed milk.

Blend thoroughly milk salt vinegar and mustard. Stir until mixture thickens. Allow to stand a few minutes in refrigerator to stiffen. This makes one and three fourths cups.

Sour Cream Salad Dressing

One fourth cup vinegar one half teaspoons all three fourths teaspoon dry mustard one half teaspoon paprika one half cup sour cream two thirds cup of sweetened condensed milk.

Blend thoroughly sweetened condensed milk vinegar salt mustard paprika and sour cream. Chill. Makes one and one half cups.

For variety add one half cup of mixed olives sweet pickle pimentoes finely chopped.

Blend thoroughly all ingredients add olives sweet pickles and pimentoes and beat until smooth. Makes one and two thirds cups.

ENEMY'S KISS

SYNOPSIS

Alison Rede knows that Daphne Sumers is marrying Alison's father for his money. Today she has seen Daphne through the window of her flat in the arms of a strange man. Alison learns on her return home that suddenly Daphne has persuaded her father that Alison shall go with them on their honeymoon. Alison can not decide whether to tell her father about Daphne and her other lover.

CHAPTER TWENTY FIVE
Phone Call

COULD Guy throw any light on it? She wondered. She glanced at the ivory and silver clock on her table. Still another 10 minutes before dinner. She began to hurry finished dressing quickly clasped on her father's turquoise pendant and ran hastily down stairs.

After 7 he had said and it was now 10 minutes to 8. If she rang up now she would catch him. She could tell him of the new development before her father got down or Daphne arrived.

The light was out in the library but Alison did not wait; she ran to the desk and switched on the reading lamp caught up the telephone book and flipped over the pages. Dundas—Doctor Dundas—here it was—an address down in the East end. She dialed the number with a finger that shook slightly as it fumbled for the right slot. What a long time the bell took ringing.

Hullo?

Somehow she had expected a maid or Doctor Dundas instead of Guy himself.

Hullo? Is that you? Alison Rede speaking. Listen. I've only a few moments but I wanted to tell you—something funny has happened—I can't talk about it now. She's dining here and may come in at any minute and the servants might hear. But can we meet tomorrow? It's urgent. Yes. Lunch then the same place same time? All right. Will you pick me up here? Yes but I think it'd be better if we met just around the corner. Do you know? By the end of Fourty Street. I thought I ought to let you know after what you said today. Well thanks most awfully. Goodnight.

Alison set the receiver back. Intense relief to have someone to turn to in these troubles. Perhaps if she told him about that other bit of knowledge, the kiss, he would see more clearly than she could herself what was the right thing to do.

She went out and upstairs to the drawing room to wait for Daphne Sumers.

Behind her in the library the heavy wine-colored damask curtains parted. Daphne came out of the window recess quietly and [illegible] crossing to the table she took a cigaret out of the silver box.

She had a very long holder of amber bound with gold—one of Robert Rede's presents. She fitted the cigaret into it with careful precision all her thoughts elsewhere. When she had lit it she went out of the room and up the stairs to the drawing room, her face without expression and her eyes no more than very faintly amused.

Dinner passed off so calmly that the girl began to hope that her father had listened to her after all. Daphne accepted her apology sweetly.

Of course. I quite understand. I often do it myself. You didn't notice the time. It doesn't matter in the least. We can shop tomorrow instead can't we? Not a single question about that lunch, not a word about the honeymoon plan. Before the evening was over Alison found herself wondering if she had made too much fuss.

It was not until the next day at 1 o'clock that anything happened. They were all three up in the boudoir looking at patterns and approving Daphne's final choice.

Rather nice. Robert always agreed amicably on such points. He knew nothing of furnishings and cared less. He took a chocolate from the box beside Daphne and said I say these are good. Your own making?

I made them specially for you. They're all the nutty kind that you like.

You're a marvel. He offered them to Alison who could say truthfully that they were the best that she had ever eaten. But she sighed. They had been two hours choosing. Daphne seemed to like to keep them both there centered on her affairs.

But two hours of such comparative calm that Alison really felt quite safe when at once she glanced at her wrist watch just back from the jeweller's and said casually I do love that last pattern. It's the nicest one you've tried. I must rush off now. I've got to lunch but I promise I won't be late this time.

Her voice was cordial for she was thinking. In two or three minutes I'll be seeing him again! Oh what a comfort.

Comfort? A tiny stab of doubt followed the thought. Was it really no more than friendliness this longing to see him, tell him all about her troubles. After all in mere time he was a stranger yet she did not think of him like that. It seemed the most natural thing in the world to tell him what she would not have told anyone else.

Bye darling. She waved to Daphne and ran to the door.

Alison. Her father spoke gravely.

Yes. With her hand on the door she turned. What?

I want a word with you.

She came back into the room slowly her face growing pale. What now?

Did you lunch yesterday with that young architect fellow what's-his-name? Robert Rede was always simple and direct.

Guy Westun? Alison could not help a glance at Daphne but she was sitting on the floor turning over her lapful of patterns her face totally expressionless. Robert went on sternly.

You're off to lunch with him again today. It was a statement not a question.

Yes. She could not guess how he knew but she threw it back defiantly.

Well you're not to. You're not to meet him again. I forbid it. Understand? He said that quietly enough yet between them that special tone had always meant an order that must be obeyed.

But why? I must know why! Alison was white now as the wall behind her.

Because I've found out all about him said her father. And he's not a fit person for you to know.

Tomorrow Alison flings the truth at Daphne.

PROTECT YOUR LIFE AND THE LIVES OF OTHERS!

THERE are three questions you should ask yourself about the tires you buy:

1—"Will the non-skid tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"
2—"Are they built to give me the greatest blowout protection?"
3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

Answer No. 1—Harvey S. Firestone early realized the value of tire traction and safety and was the first to design an All Rubber Non Skid Tire. Through the years Firestone has led the way in the design and development of tires with most effective non skid treads.

Firestone does not depend solely on traction and non-skid tests made by its own engineers—it employs a leading University to make impartial tests for non-skid efficiency of its tires, and their most recent report shows that Firestone High Speed Tires stop the car 15% quicker than the best of all popular makes of tires.

Answer No. 2—Blowout protection must be built into a tire. Friction and heat within the tire is the greatest cause of blowouts. Firestone protects its tires from friction and heat by a patented process which soaks every cord and insulates every strand with pure liquid rubber. This is an additional process known as Gum Dipping, by which every 100 pounds of cotton cords absorb eight pounds of rubber. This extra process costs more and is not used in any other make of tire.

Leading race drivers investigate the inbuilt qualities of the tires they use, because their very lives depend upon their tires, and they always select Firestone Tires for their daring speed runs. In fact, Firestone Tires have been on the winning cars in the gruelling Indianapolis 500 mile race for fifteen consecutive years, and they were on the 5,000-pound car that Ab Jenkins drove 3,000 miles in 23½ hours on the hot salt beds at Lake Bonneville, Utah, at an average speed of 127.2 miles per hour, without tire trouble of any kind. These amazing performance records are proof of the greatest blowout protection ever known.

Answer No. 3—Thousands of car owners reporting mileage records of 40,000 to 75,000 miles, is proof of the long mileage and greater economy by equipping with Firestone High Speed Tires. Let these unequaled performance records be your buying guide.

Go to the Firestone Auto Supply and Service Store or Firestone Tire Dealer and let him equip your car with Firestone Tires, the safest and most economical tires built.

GASCO TEAM TO FACE SHOVEL IN INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE HEADLINER

Torrid Week of Competition Expected Clubs Fare Better Than in 1934

Opening today with the promise of [illegible]

[illegible] expect to [illegible] this week with [illegible] it is reported.

Looking Better

Sunday school league standings show considerable variance from rankings at last season. Both Salem and Forest Lawn aggregations of the No [illegible] league experienced tougher opposition in the first two games this year. The United Brethren team with two victories in as many starts is looking better than in 1934. Other teams of the Monday circuit have fared about the same as last season.

Weather has bothered the church loops more than the late week leagues. One round of games has been delayed in the No 2 league and three nights of play in the No 1 circuit were postponed. With Memorial day removing one night of competition no postponed encounters can be cleared off the board this week.

Gasco and Steam Shovel teams of the Industrial League are showing a slight improvement in play over last season though comparative standings vary little. Gasco dropped an early season tilt in 1934 to Walters and Disbennett 6 to 4 but came back to defeat the Silk Mill team 13 to 7.

No 1 Loop Fast

The No 1 church league promises to be more hotly contested than last season. Paced by First Reformed Presbyterians Lee Street and St Mary no weak outfits are found in this circuit.

Erie Traffics Elks Pleasant Lutherans and the Saratoga Grill teams of the Commercial League promise plenty of action for other clubs of the Friday night circuit. At present the Railroaders are having things quite their own way but other teams hope to put the skids under them soon.

Salem's battle with the United Brethren team and the Oakland Christian tussle feature today's schedule. The Lee Street St Mary scrap at President field will vie with the Calvary Presbyterian contest at Garfield as headliners tomorrow.

Gasco To Meet Shovel Team

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to watch the Gasco Marion Steam Shovel battle at Lincoln park Wednesday. The Thursday games are being moved forward because of Memorial day. The Silk Mill and Walters & Disbennett encounter at Steam Shovel field promises to be a good fight.

Three games will vie for the spotlight in the Commercial League Friday night. The Elks will attempt to halt the Erie Traffic team's winning streak at President field. Pleasant Lutherans will tackle the Eagles at Lincoln and the Saratoga Grill aggregation of youngsters will encounter the K of P team at Garfield. The Westinghouse Cubs and Centennial Coal nines will meet in the fourth game at Steam Shovel field.

MARION GREYS NINE TRIMS AGOSTA, 11-10

Reece Again Fails To Hand Setback to Colored Diamond Team

Bill Reece Agosta hurler attempted again to defeat the Marion Merchant Greys and lost for the fifth straight year 11 to 10.

The victory was the second straight win for the Marion colored team. Briggs a Grey recruit started a five run rally that knocked Reece from the mound in the fifth. Briggs doubled a walk and an error filled the bases and Bill Adams hit for the circuit.

A WORLD'S RECORD IN THE MAKING

Adoption of Owens' Marks Saturday Will Be Sought

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO May 27—Now they are beginning to wonder if Jesse Owens Ohio State's great Negro track star couldn't do some damage to Ben Eastman's world quarter mile record.

Charles A Rawson referee of the Big Ten meet said the Buckeye youngster's four marks would be offered for adoption.

Hardly had he completed his astonishing assault on the 100 and 220 yard dash broad jump and hurdles records in the annual western conference meet Saturday at Ann Arbor Mich before talk of a better than 46 second quarter mile started.

The spectacular Owens in his first year of college competition is a candidate for three new world records chief of them a stunning 26 feet 8¼ inches in the broad jump and a share of another for his unparalleled performance of Saturday.

Here they are:

The 100-yard dash in 9.4 seconds equalling the world record established by Frank Wyckoff of Southern California in 1930.

His 26 feet 8¼ inches in the broad jump six and one eighth inches farther than the world record established by the great Japanese jumper Chuhei Nambu in 1931.

The 220-yard dash in 20.3 seconds three tenths of a second faster than Roland Locke's accepted standard accomplished in 1926. Better also than Locke's American record of 20.5 seconds and Ralph Metcalfe's collegiate mark of 20.4.

The 220 yard low hurdles in 22.6 seconds. The accepted record is 23 seconds established in 1924 and tied by Norman Paul of Southern California in 1931.

Owens did not use starting blocks—never uses them in fact—and meet officials said the wind at his back was almost nil.

The 21 year old speedster will compete in the National Collegiate A A meet at Berkeley Calif June 21 22 and the National A A U championship meet at Lincoln Neb.

Owens to Abandon Running Low Hurdles

Special to The Star

CLEVELAND O May 27—Jesse Owens says he is planning to withdraw temporarily at least from running the low hurdles one of the three events in which he shattered world records Saturday at Ann Arbor Mich.

Before leaving his home here to return to classes at Ohio State university the 21 year old Negro track star outlined some of his future plans.

I don't think I am going to run the low hurdles any more this year he said. Four events makes it pretty hard and besides I would like to concentrate now on breaking the 100-yard record.

Owens who faces a hard schedule in the next month said he intended to do little practicing for the next two weeks except in the 100 yard dash.

SPEEDWAY DIRECTORS CONSIDER NEW PLAN TO PREVENT MISHAPS

Sir Malcolm's American Agent Would Limit Speed of Various Laps

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS May 27—Officials of the motor speedway where the annual 500-mile race will be held Thursday are favorably considering a plan designed to prevent unfamiliarity with its treacherous turns from causing fatal accidents.

Two race drivers and one mechanic have been killed in speed runs preparatory to this year's long grind over the rough bricks. Thirty persons have been killed at the track since it opened in 1909.

Col E V Rickenbacher president of the Speedway corporation described as a splendid idea today a proposal to limit the speed of drivers new to the course. The suggestion was advanced by William Sturm of Indianapolis an American representative of Sir Malcolm Campbell British holder of the world's straightaway automobile speed record.

It would restrict new drivers at the speedway to 70 miles an hour for their first 10 laps to 90 for the next 10 and to 100 miles an hour until they [illegible] the course. Col Rickenbacker said the plan probably will be put in effect here next year.

Qualifying trials for Thursday's race resume today with nine places to be filled in the starting field of [illegible] stars. [illegible] the trials end at sundown [illegible]

Followers of the grappling sport have been wondering if the Masked Terror can wrestle hard against Buck Weaver of [illegible] champion as he has agreed to do. The fans are wondering if the Mystery Man can scale down six or seven pounds to gain the 165 pound division and place the belt at stake for tonight's encounter.

Can Buck Win?

Many are wondering if Buck will be able to handle the Terror even if the match is clean. Marion's Public Enemy No 1 as far as wrestling fans are concerned is one of the strongest men to climb through the ropes and at times has shown ability equal to any seen here.

If the Terror can make the weight division he will have a good chance of capturing the belt. Just what kind of a reception he will receive if he starts his rough stuff is a big question. He has agreed to abandon his rough tactics but he may forget his promise if the Terre Haute Ind mat man gets overly aggressive or uses his drop kick.

[illegible] able to take care of himself against an [illegible] opponent [illegible] The Terror has expressed [illegible] He [illegible] several times. His [illegible] to face the Hoosier [illegible] tonight's battle.

The second of the two double main bouts tonight will bring together two husky light heavies in Jimmy [illegible] of Birmingham and Speedy Schaeffer of Louisville. Schaeffer is a rough battler just back from a tour of the East and Canada. He has shown his wares here several times taking part in a Battle Royal as the last appearance about three years ago.

Lott a Favorite

Lott took the measure of Jack Kennedy here last week giving the crowd a colorful display of mat prowess. The short chunky wrestler is one of the hardest men to get off his feet to be seen here in some time. He is as strong as the Masked Terror or any of the other light heavies wrestling here and faster than the average.

Tonight's card promises to offer just about everything one hopes to see on a mat program. Unless the Terror goes berserk—or even if he does—the bill should be pleasing to the fans. A 20-minute opener will start at 8 30 o'clock. Both hour and a half matches will be for two out of three falls.

FIST FIGHT ENLIVENS PLAY IN ASSOCIATION, RED BIRDS WIN TWO

St Paul Club Holds League Lead With Split at Indianapolis

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO May 27 — President Thomas Hickey of the American Association who said earlier in the season that he wouldn't object too strenuously to a little unfriendliness among his league's players finally has been accommodated.

The first fist fight of the season occurred yesterday at Louisville with Charlie George Minneapolis catcher and Truitt Sewell Colonel hurler the principals in the main bout.

In the eighth inning of the first game of their double header George accused Sewell of dusting him off. One word led to another until George charged Sewell. They traded a few punches and before the incident closed players of both teams were involved. Police restored order. George and Sewell were sent from the premises and play resumed after a 12 minute delay.

The Colonels won the ball game 10 to 2 slugging out 16 hits while Sewell and his successor Frank Nekola were holding the Millers to three blows. Minneapolis remained in second place however by turning on an 18 hit assault to win the second game 13 to 7.

St Paul clung to the lead by dividing a pair with Indianapolis. The Saints led by Rezotko who hammered out three doubles in consecutive times at bat came from behind twice to win the opener 8 to 7. The Indians evened it up by taking the second game which was called at the end of the seventh because of Indianapolis 6 o'clock Sunday closing law 2 to 1.

Milwaukee equalled a league record by raking five Toledo hurlers for 10 doubles in winning the second game of a doubleheader 11 to 1 after dropping the opener 8 to 4. In addition to the deluge of doubles the Brewers checked in with home runs by Doljack and Storti and triples by Detore and Rensa. Their total production was 20 hits for 38 bases.

Columbus defeated Kansas City in both games of their Sunday exercises. Pat Ankenman's double in the tenth inning gave the Birds a 7 to 6 decision in the opener and eighteen hits including four apiece by Ankenman and Bud Hassett accounted for a 17 to 4 victory in the other one.

Two bad innings for the Marion Independents cost them a hard fought baseball game with the Bucyrus Quakers 5 to 4 Sunday at Lincoln park.

The visitors were held to three hits but bunched their blows with errors and free passes to score two runs in the sixth and three in the seventh. Don Schwartz Marion first baseman gained two hits a single and triple. Carol [illegible] played a good game at second for the Marionites.

GIANTS TOP TORRID BATTLES FOR LEAD IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

Giants Trim Deans, 5 to 4 Reds Down Braves 6 3 as Ruth is Checked.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

If anyone wonders what is holding the Giants up at the head of the National League despite a plague of injuries a simple answer is found in the three-cornered battle for the next best place in the standing.

Since starting west and losing most of their infield enroute the Giants have won two out of three games each in Cincinnati Pittsburgh and Chicago yesterday continued their triumphant progress with a 5 to 4 victory over the Cardinals and both of the famous Deans.

Deans Are Knicked

The Dodgers Cubs and Cards have engaged in so keen a dog fight that no one of them has been able to threaten the leaders and the Pittsburgh Pirates have been threatening to rise up and smite one of them down into the second division.

New York had to go to the ninth inning to collect four runs off Paul Dean and brother Dizzy who relieved him when the going got tough and was nicked for a walk and a hit that meant three runs.

The Cubs knocked down to fourth place by the Giants Saturday bounced back into second with an 8 to 3 triumph over Brooklyn on Bill Lee's four hit pitching and four Dodger errors. That put them a few points in front of Brooklyn and a half game up on St. Louis.

The Pirates meanwhile cut the St Louis margin to a half game as Cy Blanton pitched them to a 3 to 1 victory over the Phillies for his seventh triumph of the season.

Babe Ruth who belted three home runs at Pittsburgh Saturday couldn't repeat against Si Johnson at Cincinnati and the Reds won 6 to 3. The Babe fanned three times and fouled out once.

The almost daily exchange of fourth and fifth places between Detroit and Boston was the only alteration in the American League standing. The Red Sox moved back into the first division by downing the St Louis Browns 8 to 7 after Wes Ferrell had been pounded for six runs in the first two innings.

The Tigers couldn't cope with the left handed pitching of Vito Tamulis and took a 2 to 0 shutout from the second place Yankees.

The victory enabled the Yankees to increase their margin over Cleveland to 1½ games as the Indians took a 9 4 setback from Washington.

Released Cleveland Catcher Has Three Offers.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND O May 27 Glenn Myatt after 13 years with the Cleveland Indians was on his way to St Louis today to join the New York Giants

The veteran Cleveland catcher was given his unconditional release Thursday by Manager Walter Johnson who also ordered Willie Kamm infielder, to return to Cleveland and report to the club management

Myatt who is 35 appeared highly pleased with his new job with the National League team [illegible] He said he also had had offers from the Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago White Sox

"I would not have minded [illegible] a release if it was felt my playing services were no longer necessary" Myatt said "but the fact that I have received many offers seems to disprove that my value as a player was ended"

Kamm said yesterday "If Johnson didn't want me to give advice to the youngsters on the club he should have told me so"

Coca Cola Sales Reach Total of Nine Million Daily

Quality Wins Title of "Best Drink in World"

Marion Has One of 1,300 Modern Plants Producing Pure and Invigorating Beverage.

[illegible] 886 [illegible] a little shop in Atlanta an experimenter worked with flavors A kettle and ladle were his only equipment His [illegible] was to produce a [illegible] drink that would delight taste and give a wholesome aftersense of refreshment Nine million bottles of Coca-Cola a day record its success Only a drink of the highest quality possibly could have attained such popularity

Produced before the day of artificial drinks Coca-Cola is a pure drink of natural flavors — good things from nine sunny climes There is nothing synthetic or artificial in it

Carbonation is the foundation of the beverage industry in which Coca-Cola far outdistances all competitors in popular flavor Scientific research has proven that carbonation kills bacteria and that a carbonated beverage is a more wholesome beverage

Just one drink would cost a fortune but millions are served at [illegible] cents each Except for established distribution and tremendous volume it would be impossible to sell a drink of the quality of Coca-Cola for a nickel Coca-Cola sales have increased from 2500 drinks for the whole year of 1886 to an average of nine million for every day of the year Today it is the drink everybody knows and likes

Vast Distributing Group

There are now 1,300 modern Coca-Cola bottling plants equipped to bottle and supply Coca-Cola to the grocers and other merchants the Marion Coca-Cola being one of this number located at 707 Bennett street

Up-to-date bottle washers and sterilizing machinery the best known bottle filler and crowning machine ice machine carbon filter and carbonator have been installed These machines are all electrically equipped and so arranged that in handling the bottles they are not touched by human hands from the time they go into the washer and sterilizing machine until they are automatically filled with syrup crowned sealed air tight and placed in the cases ready for distribution

Expert attention is given to the sanitary condition of the syrup room where all of the mixing of the syrup is made ready for bottling The flavor and sugar are agitated and mixed in a sanitary electric equipped glass lined mixing jar and is continually agitated during the process of bottling This insures uniformity of ingredients in each bottle

When a merchant hands you a bottle of Coca-Cola or a soda manufactured by us you are sure of getting as good pure and wholesome a drink as can be made

Sign with a Meaning

The little red Coca-Cola sign adorns the stores and stands of more than 600,000 retailers The invitation on the little red sign means "Stop and Refresh Yourself"

Coca-Cola is a refreshing drink to quench thirst Yet it has considerable food value as well as shown by these comparisons Coca-Cola 80 calories an egg 60 calories a slice of white bread 75 calories an orange 87 calories

Coca-Cola bottling plants are regularly inspected by experts from the Coca-Cola company also the state food department which insures the standardization and purity of every bottle offered to the public As a result every drink is exactly like every other as it is possible to make it Twenty two scientific tests for the purity, covering every step of its preparation safeguard this pure drink of natural flavors

Millions of dollars have been spent on plants equipment and methods to safeguard the purity and wholesomeness of Coca-Cola

A few years ago people did not think it possible to produce a drink good enough to be popular in all climates and in all seasons Coca-Cola has proved that "Thirst Knows No Season" Served ice cold in a Coca-Cola bottle a bottle you can identify even in the dark Coca-Cola is known as the best served drink in the world Coca-Cola is distinctive because it is not from one vine or one tree but a blend of good things from nine sunny climes—with a flavor all its own

Nine million a "day" means that three billion two hundred and eighty five million drinks of Coca-Cola are served in one year

A dollar will buy less than half what it would buy the year Coca-Cola had its beginning Yet through volume [illegible] methods a nickel still buys Coca-Cola

Coca-Cola is served around the corner from anywhere in every city town and hamlet in the United States and Canada and in 30 other countries

Millions say Coca-Cola is the finest flavor they ever tasted The description of its delicious and refreshing [illegible] as well known as the drink itself

The greatest factor in the success of Coca-Cola is the public confidence in it now covering 49 years This confidence could come from only two things first the ingredients used second the care with which the drink is prepared Every ingredient is a pure product from nature there's nothing synthetic or artificial in it All are found in wholesome foods and drinks consumed every day by every family The distinctive individuality of Coca-Cola is due to the art and care with which these ingredients are selected and blended accomplished by a secret formula to protect the public and ourselves from imitations and substitutes In spotless plants the purity of the drink is safeguarded by 22 scientific tests covering every step in its preparation Coca-Cola had to be good to get where it is

Treating Tetanus

FOURTH OF JULY soon will be here The next day we will read of many accidents to noise makers celebrating the anniversary Before the first of August there will be newspaper accounts of many deaths from tetanus

This disease or lock jaw as it is more commonly called is always serious and in many cases fatal Fortunately it is now possible to prevent the deadly complications It is capable of producing By the timely administration of "tetanus antitoxin" given before the germs have entered the blood system the dangerous complications may be avoided

The disease is caused by a germ known as the "bacillus tetanus" This is found in soil in the debris of dirty places and sometimes on dirty and [illegible] objects Mere contact with it is harmless as long as it remains outside of the body When once it enters the tissues dangerous infection results

As a rule these germs enter the body through a small cut or abrasion For this reason the menace of tetanus is ever present when an injury has broken the skin and contaminated material has entered the wound It may follow a scratch or cut made by a rusty nail a piece of tin or other implement A fall in a dirty place where the hands perhaps have been bruised and the skin broken may leave a gateway for the germs

For this reason it is customary for the ambulance surgeon who responds to an accident call to administer immediately tetanus antitoxin Undoubtedly this practice has saved the lives of thousands of persons It has helped to lessen the dangers of accidents caused by explosives during Fourth of July celebrations

Despite the fact that everybody knows the danger of tetanus infection many persons neglect cuts and scratches A trifling cut or abrasion may seem such a simple thing that nothing is done about it The victim doctors his wound with alleged antiseptics and home remedies of doubtful value Every wound caused by a fire cracker a rusty object or other accident in which field or street dirt has contaminated the wound requires the administration of tetanus antitoxin

If this is not given and the tetanus germs are present they liberate a powerful poison which the blood carries throughout the body This poison or toxin as it is called by the doctors reaches the nervous system Pretty soon after that there appear severe convulsions of lockjaw

The victim first complains of restlessness and irritability Then follow chills and headache with a peculiar stiffening of the neck and jaw Chewing and swallowing are difficult The jaw appears to be locked I cannot describe to you the agonizing pains that accompany the terrible convulsions

This picture could be prevented by the early and timely administration of tetanus antitoxin The really awful symptoms would not appear if tetanus antitoxin were given in all cases where there is a suspicion of the probability of tetanus infection Even when in doubt as to the possible effects of the injury it is best to be on the safe side and receive the antitoxin treatment

Threat

William Green's threat to call a nationwide general strike ... for extending the recovery act for two years at ... as the Wagner labor ... bill and the Black-Connery 30-hour week bill must be taken at its face value.

Mr. Green does not enjoy the unqualified support of ... labor leaders whose consent would be essential in so grave a matter as calling a nationwide strike. He is president of the American Federation of Labor but he is no czar.

Mr. Green has no way of knowing what proportion of the federation's members would be willing to go on strike for the purpose of bringing pressure to bear on congress. He has made a statement which represents a narrow view, but he might be able to call out organized labor on a national strike, or he might not.

Many friends of organized labor, if their opinions were solicited, would tell Mr. Green he has proposed a thing which would do irreparable injury to the American Federation of Labor. The public does not take kindly to general strikes for the good reason that it resents being inconvenienced for a cause in which it is not interested directly.

The three pieces of legislation which Mr. Green says the American Federation of Labor will paralyze the United States to get are not in universal demand. Although as president of the federation Mr. Green is supposed to represent the organization, many of its members would want to think a long time before going on strike for the purpose of extending the recovery act two years instead of nine months.

In fact, it looks as though Mr. Green had gone off the deep end, an error which is not habitual with him. Congressmen supposed to be intimidated by his bold threat of a national strike would do well to interpret it in the light of their experience with spokesmen for pressure groups. Mr. Green's bark is fiercer than he can make his bite.

Comparison

Objection to the scale of work relief wages announced immediately following publication of the scale indicated clearly it was going to be impossible to please critics demanding payment of relief workers on a basis of prevailing private wages. Some fear President Roosevelt made a grave error in accepting responsibility for relief wages. He will not be able to satisfy either those who think the wages are too low or those who think they are too high.

The former plainly are not interested in the fact that beneficiaries will get more money from work relief than they are getting from direct relief. Official figures are the basis for an interesting comparison. They show that where work relief wages will range from $19 to $94 direct relief is within a range from $9 to $43. The following table tells the story:

	Direct Relief	Work Relief
Zone 1 (New England west)	$-1 to $43	$40 to $94
Zone 2 (Midwest)	$11 to $39	$32 to $79
Zone 3 (Southwest)	$7 to $15	$21 to $
Zone 4 (Southeast)	$9 to $18	$19 to $ 5

Apparently beneficiaries of relief have no grounds for complaint. Naturally many of them will be interested in the move to obtain more money for them, but they have nothing to lose if the move isn't successful. They will get more money whatever happens. As to the prevailing wage argument that private wages will be cut to meet the government's relief wage rates, it was significant that Henry Ford raised the minimum wage for his employes from $5 to $6 a day while the prevailing wagers still were yelling "Wolf."

NOTED PIONEER

Soldier, schoolboy, lawyer and national figure was the interesting career of Washington Gardner, who was born in Morrow county Feb. 16, 1845. Enlisting for service in the Civil war at a meeting held Oct. 26, 1861 at Mt. Gilead, the boy was soon active in Sherman's campaign for Atlanta. Injuries sustained in the battle at Chickamauga sent him home a veteran of three years service and still not 20 years of age.

He at once put into execution a resolution formed while in the army, that if he lived to get home he would go to school. THE AWAKENING

He ... the war. The worst of it is that he can prove it.—Dallas News.

The Prospect Is Changed

Before the ... failure of President Roosevelt's veto of the Patman bonus and inflation bill was ... in the senate the prospect for enactment of a bonus bill during the President's first term is brighter than ever before. The issue was not dissolved by the Patman bill's failure to pass over the president's veto. It merely was suspended.

Mr. Roosevelt's opposition consisted of objection to two phases of that particular bill. First, he is opposed to the policy of granting to bonus seekers the special privilege they demand. The bonus itself was a concession. Prepayment is another concession which President Roosevelt is not willing to make.

The President's second objection was to the method of payment. His objection in that regard was shared by some congressmen, perhaps a sufficient number to prove important if another bonus bill comes to a climax free from the taint of paper money payment. In that event Mr. Roosevelt's opposition as it was described in his veto message on the Patman bill would be halved. His position probably would not be sustained in the senate.

For purposes of looking ahead, therefore, it may be assumed a bonus bill will be enacted before the campaign in 1936. It is obviously the desire of President Roosevelt's opposition. There is no apparent way to prevent the majority from going ahead. Nothing but popular protest strong enough to overbalance the bonus bloc's pressure on congressmen could do the trick, and unorganized majorities, like giraffes, have no voices.

It becomes, therefore, President Roosevelt's responsibility as the head of the government to start preparing for the next event in the bonus issue. Preparation will consist in plans for taxation to meet the expense of the bonus. It will be an opportunity, incidentally, for him to make congressmen squirm in their bonus fervor.

Change It

Left wingers who have raised an alarm against the Rev. Fr. Charles E. Coughlin as the most likely leader of a fascist movement in the United States must have been surprised Wednesday night to discover how much like themselves he is becoming. If capitalism stands in the way of social justice, he threatened, it will have to be constitutionally voted out of existence.

That was the admission of a Socialist in the making. Though constitutional reform is not attractive to the extreme left members of that wing of political thought may find in Fr. Coughlin's threat against capitalism some hope of his ultimately reaching their own point of view. They are distrustful of constitutional means of reform. He may become so later, particularly if he has occasion to submit his patience to the ordeal of trying to destroy capitalism by votes and laws.

Fr. Coughlin is personally responsible for keeping himself far enough ahead of the crowd which is following him to escape destruction. No one is going to help him either; he puts a safe distance between his position as leader and the position of his restless followers or they will trample him in a struggle to some more satisfactory ... He is pacing a juggernaut. Fr. Coughlin admits frequently it is not himself but his views which are the thing. The juggernaut will not pause in deference to its creator if he begins to lag. Until it slows down through loss of momentum he has a grim task to perform. Before that, perhaps, he may be talking of things far more radical than the constitutional overthrow of capitalism.

Not Quite Perfect

Ohio Republicans will be interested in Postmaster General Farley's bland assurance that Democratic headquarters has Ohio and Michigan marked safe in its prospects for 1936. There's nothing to worry about in the Buckeye state and its northern neighbor, says he.

Unfortunately, politicians must make such statements to hold their jobs. It's their business to know what will and what won't happen, or to seem to know. No one holds it against the defeated candidate who predicted on the eve of election day that his opponent didn't have a chance. That's part of the game.

Postmaster General Farley doesn't know any more about what Ohio will do in No-

Behind The News In

Washington And Wall Street

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Not all the lobbying on the bonus was done by the veterans. The administration itself subtly experimented with some new modes of bringing pressure to bear on congress in support of the President's veto. It did a very effective job.

Of course everyone knew that Postmaster General Farley, the patronage potentate, was in the Democratic cloak room of the senate buttonholing wayward Democrats.

What no one saw was the masterminding of one Mr. Charles Michelson, the Democratic publicity thinker who is supposed to have thought Mr. Hoover out of the White House. Mr. Michelson acted in this case as a confidential agent to offset the prodigious publicity activities of the American Legion and VFW.

Fire

One of Mr. Michelson's delicate tasks was to bring pressure on a prominent industrial lobbying organization to support the President. In response to this pressure it came out with a last minute statement urging manufacturers to wire congressmen in the Coughlin manner to sustain the Presidential veto.

Mr. Michelson also is being credited by his envious publicity brethren here with having been instrumental in keeping the labor lobbies out of the fray. One labor leader had to espouse the bonus because 90,000 of his miners had been in the war but the other established labor leaders remained silent.

Such tactics are common to all lobbies but this is the first time the government indulged in fighting fire builders with their own fires.

Shenanigans

The common gossip story of the reason for the bonus defeat is the one that the American Legion really did not want the Patman bill because it was originated by a rival organization, the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

This is one of those half truths which people will insist on believing, but the facts do not entirely substantiate it. For one thing, 376 congressmen voted for the Patman bill and 138 against (counting both the house and senate). The fors included all the Legion votes. Furthermore, the Legion could not possibly have changed the result if its lobbyists had broken their backs.

Yet it is true, as every insider knows, that Legion headquarters is not wearing mourning because of defeat of the bill. Also senators realized that the Legion organization would not hang them in effigy for defeating the measure.

A fair statement would be that the Legion accepted its earlier defeat in good grace, worked for the bill of its rival on the final test, but is not displeased at the result.

Reason

A veterans leader from Michigan came in to see Senator Vandenberg before the senate vote. The veteran spoke a prepared piece urging the senator to support the bonus. He appeared to be a clear-headed and reasonable man, so Vandenberg told him:

"Come on inside here in my private office and let's talk this thing over." There Vandenberg explained his reasons for believing that the Patman bill was a very defective proposal.

He was surprised when the veterans leader finally said:

"Senator, I think you are right. You have convinced me. I am going back and tell that to the people who sent me here."

The people who paid his fare probably ... when he ... home ... [illegible] ... who will ...

Conferences

The ... [illegible] ... Dealers ... [illegible] ... national stabilization conference ... Our authorities believe large international conferences are not feasible any more. Too many small nations come in on an almost equal footing with large nations. They play with first one large nation and then another. The result is a constant stirring of political alignments which defeat the purposes of the conference.

Consequently the chances are strongly against Washington taking the initiative in calling another conference. Believe it or not, France may.

Doubling Up

The vague stabilization dickering apparently is proceeding through two treasury representatives now in Europe. The fact that one is there now despite denials that recently were published. (Likewise it has been officially denied that he is doing anything except observing.) Another (Henry Shepherd) has hastened off quietly on a boat recently. He left on 24 hours notice. The treasury also would like every one to believe that he too had to hurry over to observe something or other.

Both are trained research men in money and economics. They are not, of course, official negotiators, but their data will be used later when the time comes to select negotiators.

It has been a custom for the government to use bankers, mainly Federal Reserve of New York, in such preliminary sound-out negotiations with European nations. Whether any are now being so employed is strongly doubted here now.

Shivers

Several officers in the war department are quaking in their boots since the army court martial dismissed Col. Williams for soliciting and accepting a $2,500 loan from a lobbyist. Some of them accepted small favors from lobbyists in perfectly good faith and without any intention of granting privileges, but a court martial would smear their careers even if they were exonerated.

BY JAMES McMULLIN

NEW YORK, May 27.—Secretary Roper's business advisory council isn't the only group which feels it has been given the works in Washington. The American Bankers association nurses a similar grievance.

Several months ago leading members of the association had a private conference with Federal Reserve Governor Marriner Eccles in Texas. It was all very unofficial but New York insiders say a definite understanding was reached. The ABA agreed to soft pedal its opposition to Title II of the banking bill—and specifically not to object to an open market committee controlling the purchase and sale of federal securities by the reserve banks dominated by the federal reserve board.

In return Eccles was supposed to ... acceptance of amendments by the administration which would remove the secretary of the treasury and the comptroller of the currency from the federal reserve board and would give four votes out of nine on the proposed open market committee to governors of regional reserve banks. The bill as ... [illegible]

Overstepped

The bankers aren't ... [illegible] ... the bill ... [illegible] ... The ABA has been ... [illegible] ... but didn't know it until later.

Alone

New York sharps prophesy that Father Coughlin will come a heavy cropper on the Nye-Sweeney banking bill. His assumption that the administration will swallow it because Secretary Morgenthau said he favored an independent monetary authority won't be justified. The radio priest has announced that congressional hearings will be held on his bill—but that isn't up to him. It's up to Senator Fletcher and Congressman Steagall. Neither of them is likely to confuse an already complicated situation still more just to make Coughlin happy.

When the Eccles bill first came up several of Father Coughlin's closest advisers urged him to support it as a practical step towards his objective. They told him it would be politically impossible to go beyond it at present. But Coughlin wouldn't listen and came out for his own plan. Then he turned his bridges by attacking the Eccles bill as a bankers measure. (You wouldn't think it was if you could hear the bankers talk.) That makes it impossible for him to retrace his steps and get aboard the winning wagon now.

Astute observers remark that this is the first issue he is making a fight on which hadn't already been extensively popularized (by other sources besides himself) before it came to a test. This was true of devaluation, of the silver policy, of opposition to the World Court and of the Patman bonus bill. For once he stands virtually alone — and it will make quite a difference. The Nye-Sweeney bill won't get to first base—but a lot of financial conservatives hope Coughlin does succeed in promoting a congressional argument about it. They figure that would vastly improve the chances of killing the objectionable Title II in the Eccles bill.

Flexible

Even conservatives were startled by the low scale of wages established for work relief. They freely admit that the hardest boiled industrialist would have trouble finding grounds for complaint about unfair competition from the government.

Informed New Yorkers doubt that the kickback will be anything like as violent as the initial reactions from labor would indicate. They point out that a large proportion of allotments are specifically exempt—PWA projects, highway construction, etc. Beyond that Harry Hopkins had considerable latitude in shifting the announced scales. This flexibility will be a great advantage in appeasing discontent if it gets dangerously hot.

Safe

The railway brotherhoods threaten to support the Wheeler bill for public ownership of railroads unless the Crosser pension bill and the proposal to require a three-fourths majority of the supreme court to nullify an act of congress are enacted.

New York interprets this as a beautiful bluff. The brotherhoods don't want public ownership. It's harder to drive a bargain with the government than with a private employer. But they know that the Wheeler bill hasn't the shadow of a chance—so it's perfectly safe to make the gesture.

Shortage

Maybe the cynical prediction that work relief won't be much of a stimulus to trade will come true—but you can't sell that idea to the department stores. Several New York leaders in the field are already prophesying ... shortage by fall. BY JIMMY MURPHY

TOOTS, THERE ARE TWO THINGS IN LIFE YOU CAN'T GET AWAY FROM---TAXES AND RELATIVES! EVEN IF YOU HIDE YOURSELF IN THE WILDERNESS, IF YOU'VE A GUEST-ROOM, YOUR RELATIVES WILL FIND YOU!
GRAN'PA GROVER IS COMING TO VISIT US--- I HAVEN'T SEEN HIM SINCE I LEFT HOME--- HE PREDICTED A DISMAL FUTURE FOR ME--- HE SAID I WAS SHIFTLESS, IRRESPONSIBLE AND IMPROVIDENT.
5-27
WELL, HE'S NOT GONNA GET A CHANCE TO CARRY THE NEWS BACK HOME THAT I HAVEN'T ANYTHING, BECAUSE I'M GONNA BUNK HIM INTO THINKING I'M RICH! WHAT DID THEY EVER DO FOR ME THAT I SHOULD GIVE 'EM THE SATISFACTION OF KNOWING I'M BROKE?
JIMMY MURPHY
WATCH FOR GRAND-PA GROVER TO PUT IN HIS APPEAR-ANCE!

STEEL OPERATIONS TAKE SLIGHT DROP

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., May 27—Steel operations fell 1½ points last week largely because automobile steel commitments failed to rally as well as expected, the magazine Steel said today.

The national average of operations is now 44 per cent. Despite the fact auto production rose to 101,900 units compared to 90,000 in the preceding week. Sheet and strip mill operations did not regain the ground lost through recent automotive plant suspensions, the magazine said.

Grandfather Forgets Mission to Play with Baby

[illegible]

Madge Reassures Him

Of course Katherine approves. I told him. "We both do. The blocks are perfectly wonderful. That's the reason we don't let her have them often. They are so beautiful and expensive, and all she does with them is to bang them on the floor. She can do that with anything, and I didn't want to get the blocks all marked up."

"What utter nonsense!" my father exploded testily. "Suppose she does bang them up! I fancy the Spencer exchequer can stand the strain of more sets of the same kind for an only granddaughter. Where are the blocks?"

"They're in that cabinet on the other side of the room. I'll get them for you."

Father Gets Blocks

"No, please," my father said quickly. "I want to get them myself. And don't be surprised at anything I do."

I was glad he had given me the adjuration when he the most dignified untied his cravat and put it to swiftly took off his coat and vest, untied his cravat and put it to one side. Getting down upon the floor in the same all fours position that was his granddaughter's, he began to scuttle over the floor with movements grotesquely imitative of Faith's method of locomotion.

Mary opened her lips upon an exclamation, but my frantic gesture silenced her in time, and we both stood silent watching not my father but the baby.

For the space of a second she had raised her head and looked at him with wide-open eyes and rose leaf face screwed up in ludicrous amazement. One thing was certain [illegible] all [illegible]

[illegible]

"You're elected, Grandpa Spencer," Mary [illegible] the irrepressible commented in a low tone. "If she runs true to form you'll be building those blocks and knocking them down for the next hour."

"I hope so," my father answered fervently. "I can not imagine a more delightful way of spending one of my last hours at home."

But Mary's prophecy fell far short in time. For a quarter of an hour indeed both baby and grandfather revelled in the sport of building towers and knocking them down again, although Faith soon established full suzerainty over the knocking down process.

Then as suddenly as it had attracted her the new sport palled, and she pulled herself up by her grandfather's side and leaning against him put both tiny hands up to him with an appealing gesture I never had seen her use before.
